BRUICHLADDICH - OCTOMORE 02.2 ORPHEUS

Octomore 02.2 “Orpheus” Matured in American oak and bottled at 61% after a further period in legendary quality Allier oak - casks sourced from the sublime Bordeaux Chateau Petrus; bringing depth, definition and finish quite literally “from another world”.

- Octomore 02.2 “Orpheus” once again the worlds most highly peated whisky. At a legendary 140PPM.
- Limited edition release of 15,000 numbered bottles sold strictly by allocation.

Colour: Mahogany red.

Body: Strong and muscular, absolutely in top condition. The texture is as smooth as the rocks on Islay’s western seaboard. An amazing warmth floods throughout the body lifting you to a level of pleasure you have never experienced from a malt whisky.

Nose/Palate: The aromas explode from the glass. It’s peat smoke, wet seaweed, archangel tar, wet sailcloth, all the Islay character is on the flood tide, then with time and a little water the wonderful sweet red fruit notes from the Petrus wine casks emerge; cherry, cranberry and pomegranate, Turkish delight, the sweetness of oak and barley slipstream, together they bring a sensational contrast to the phenolic maelstrom.

It’s a journey of discovery for the senses, which are on full alert coping with physical heat, but they are loving it. It’s something they have never experienced before and they will never forget.

This spirit cries “freedom” untainted by additives and attitudes. Let the spirit seep into your soul. It’s revelation in a glass.

Finish: It’s “Beauty and the Beast” Islay style. Total romance with a sensational ending, can’t tell you about it you HAVE to try it, it’s wicked.”
